

Your Brand.
The Corsearch Mission.

Meet Corsearch

We are the only company covering the entire lifecycle of trademarks from inception to protection. With us, you can research and clear new trademarks, watch marks globally, and monitor and enforce their use!

We call this the lifecycle because our services are interdependent. Registering new trademarks requires future vigilance and protection, while brand protection from infringement relies on a considered IP registration strategy.

By combining online brand protection with the Corsearch trademark business, we can protect brands with the backing of a solid trademark safeguard.

This is so important to what we offer because we are with you through the whole journey and that's one of the reasons why we have such long-lasting relationships with our clients.
